PLEASE WILL RUN FOR GOVERNOR.

The following letter has been received by us, and is a copy of which was mailed to Hon. J. Mack King of Anderson in reply to a letter he wrote the Ex-Governor on the 17th., regarding his candidacy for governor next summer. Please has made his final declaration, and from now on he will keep himself before the people. The letter is self-explanatory and we therefore submit it to our readers:

January, 20th, 1916.

Hon. J. Mack King,
Anderson, S. C.
My Dear Mack:

Your kind letter of the 17th instant received, and I appreciate very highly indeed the complimentary remarks contained therein in reference to myself.

I would have answered earlier but the Sheriff's Association, the Warehousemen's meetings, the Supreme Court, the United States Court and the Legislature all being in session here this week, many people from different parts of the State have been in the City, and I have been very busily engaged in various conferences with our friends.

In reply to your direct question, I beg leave to say that, since the conference of this week, I have definitely and finally decided to be a candidate for the office of Governor in the campaign this year, and you can say to our friends that at the proper time I shall pay my assessment, file my pledge and walk into the race; and unless all signs change, I will WIN. The only thing I ask of my friends, is that they go to the ballot boxes, when they are first opened, and remain until the last vote is counted, and see that we are not robbed. This is my final determination. If my friends will do that, the victory is ours, and the people of the State will have in power men who are representatives of the interest of all the people, and who will see that equal rights are given to all and special privileges to none.

I have engagements to make several speeches, and shall, from now on, devote my time to the interest of my supporters, and invite all Carolinians who believe in an honest, faithful administration, free from prejudice and where poor and rich, alike, will be received and made welcome, to join in our success. Let our battle-cry be, "Love of God, Love of Home, and Love of our Country—Justice to all and oppression of none."

Give my love to all the boys, and, with kindest personal regards and best wishes to you, I am,

As ever, your friend,
COLE.

MONEY AND ITS MAKING.

To make money is comparatively easy. To save it is more difficult. To make it grow is a problem.

And not all of us are able to solve the problem.

But if ever there was a time when we faced the opportunities for making money grow, that time is now.

Everybody knows that the prosperity of the nation depends primarily upon the farmer and his crops. If he plants in large acreages, and nature is good to him, his yield is bountiful and he becomes the harbinger of an era of prosperity.

When the farmer is plentifully supplied with funds he wants new machinery and more machinery, and the making of these gives employment to millions of people.

These people in turn have money to spend and the merchant begins to increase the volume of his business and gather in great profits.

And as it is with these, so it is all down the line and extending into every industry and into every home.

This year the farmers of this country marketed the greatest crop in history, the total value of the leading crops reaching the astounding figures of over $5,250,000,000. This exceeds last year's yield by over $415,000,000.

The making of money by the people of this community the coming year will depend greatly upon the farmers of our community. If they increase their acreage the wealth of the community will be enhanced in proportion, and through the logical routine of barter and trade it finds its way into every artery of fawn, farm and countryside.

The year to come will witness a tremendous demand for farm products. This demand will come from every section of the globe and the buyer pays in gold.

For this reason we urge upon every farmer the advisability, even the vital importance, of cultivating every possible foot of ground, even to the doubling of your acreage if such a thing be within the bounds of possibility.

The opportunity for making money is before you—The greatest you have ever seen, possibly greater than you will ever see again.

You are our mainstay, our backbone, the one man upon whom we all depend, to whom we all turn as the child turns to its mother.

Your success will be our success, your prosperity our prosperity, your advancement our advancement.

You are the man of the hour, and the opportunity is before you.

WHEN PEOPLE FORGET TO THINK.

Forgetting to think is a prevalent ailment the world over, and in this respect our own community is no exception to the general rule. It is of daily occurrence right in our own midst.

It is not the big things of life that we forget, for our nature is such that important matters are more indelibly impressed upon our minds and therefore the more certain of receiving attention at the proper time.

But it is the little things that slip our minds, promises lightly made and soon forgotten, duties that are left unperformed because we simply forget to think.

Stored away in the vaults of our banks are thousands and thousands of dollars drawing interest for various good citizens when they by rights should be credited to the accounts of other people.

Our merchants, doctors, lawyers, carpenters, practically everybody in fact, have small accounts due them here, and there because people have forgotten even to think.

It is fifty cents here, a dollar there, for two or five, small in the individual account but enormous in the aggregate. If all of these accounts were collected together and one man became responsible for the combined sum he would never forget to give it consideration, regardless of the extent of his wealth.

It would be too important to overlook, too vital to forget.

We could name a merchant in this town who has thousands of dollars on his books in insignificant amounts. The people who owe him these sums are not deadbeats, for they are among our best class of substantial citizens. He is not worrying over eventually getting the money because he knows from long experience with these same people that his accounts are as good as gold—with one exception. The gold in hand would enable him to increase the size of his stock and sell more goods and thereby earn greater dividends on his investment.

But wholesalers and manufacturers require their money on the dot, and a hundred or a thousand small accounts due the merchant are not considered in the light of an asset by the men from whom he buys his goods. If each of the men who owe these small accounts would take the trouble to think, they would rush in one great throng to that store and pay up those small bills, and the merchant would then be in position to do even better by them in the future.

But they forget to think, and their money remains in bank and they continue to draw interest on it while the merchant patiently waits for his due. And this merchant is only one of the many.

Even the newspaper is not immune from the evils of forgetting to think. In fact, we are inclined to the belief that we are in even a more unenviable position in this respect than any merchant in town.

To speak candidly, we are proud of the names we have on our subscription list, for they represent the intelligence and the integrity of this whole community.

But even men of the highest intelligence and the most rigid integrity can forget to think. They are forgetting to think in our own case.

If these same good and loyal citizens could take one glance at our books they would be appalled at the amount of money that is due us on subscription to this paper. They are small amounts individually, ranging from 50 cents to $2 or $3, marked up against men and women whose words are as good as their bonds.

But we can not pay our own bills with the honor and the integrity of our subscribers. We put up the cash.

Right now we have a splendid opportunity to invest some money in our business that would yield us handsome returns. But we are handicapped because our subscribers forget to think. We can not make the investment unless our subscribers do think—not only think, but pay. And we do yearn mightily toward that dividend producing investment. Our family yearns for the money it would bring into the editorial home.

But it will not always be so. Some day people will not forget to think, for our people are right minded and their forgetfulness is but a fault and not a crime. But if it were only to day?

SUMMERTON ENDORSES McLAURIN.

Jan. 22, 1916.

Summerton, S. C.—Mass meeting endorsing State warehouse system and the present commissioner Hon. John L. McLaurin.

A number of citizens of this section met at the Summerton school building today in the interest of the State warehouse system.

After the meeting was called to order, Supt. J. A. James was elected chairman, and A. M. Scarborough Secretary. Capt. James made a few remarks in regard to the present system, after which Mr. Ellison Capers offered the following resolutions which were adopted by the organization.

Resolved; That, we, citizens of the Summerton section, representing all walks of life in meeting assembled, believing the State warehouse system, as created and directed by John L. McLaurin is of immense benefit to the business interest of our State, and,

Whereas, We view with alarm and discomfort the evident purpose of some to discredit and injure the said warehouse system by attacks on the present Commissioner, and by preparing unwise amendments to the laws governing said system.

Resolved: That we, in mass meeting expressing our appreciation and hearty approval of the State warehouse system, and our confidence in the Hon. John L. McLaurin, the present Commissioner and deem it unwise and against the public interest to enact any laws incompatible with the plans and purposes of the present management.

That we endorse Mr. McLaurin for re-election as State warehouse commissioner, and would consider the election of any other man at this particular time a calamity to the farming interest of the State. We also give our endorsement and approval to the local warehouse management.

Resolved: Further, that a copy of this be sent the daily papers and to our representatives in State Legislature, and that our representatives be urged to co-operate with and support State warehouse commissioner.

Hon. J. L. McLaurin.
Hon. Charlton DuRant.
Hon. J. N. Rush.
